Group Calls for Bipartisan Spy Plane Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted unanimously today to conduct a "full and bipartisan inquiry" into the spy plane incident and events leading up to the collapse of the summit conference.

The inquiry will get underway Friday at 9:30 a.m. (EST) with testimony from Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

It will be conducted at closed sessions, but edited transcripts of testimony will be made public after being censored for security reasons.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas called today for a calm inquiry into the summit collapse to preserve national unity in a critical period.

Johnson told the Senate that such unity "does not require sweeping facts under the rug—no matter how unpleasant those facts may be."

"But it does require treatment of the facts coolly, calmly and in an objective vein and I think that the nation will be served if we proceed in that spirit," he said.

Johnson's statement obviously was aimed at reducing the heat generated by a Senate explosion Monday in which Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) called on Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Adlai E. Stevenson to clear themselves of suspicion of being appeasers.

Kennedy replied that he is no appeaser. He said he was quoted out of context on a statement he made in Portland, Ore., that a "way might have been found for President Eisenhower to apologize to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev for the spy plane incident."

Johnson gently took Sen. Scott to task for assailing Stevenson on the basis of a Paris newspaper interview Stevenson has disclaimed.

The Democratic leader said he thinks the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and a government operations subcommittee will maintain objectivity in probing into the administration's summit actions and policies.

"I do not think this is the time to anticipate the work of these committees on the basis of alleged newspaper interviews which may well have been garbled in translation or which through improper emphasis, may have changed a thought," Johnson said.

Both sides in the row disclaimed any political motives but the blowup still promised a foreign policy battle lasting through the presidential campaign.

Arkla Merger Plans Approved

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Public Service Commission has approved merger plans of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. and Consolidated Utilities Corp. Ark. La. would be the surviving company.

The Commission said the merger would not affect rates, service or security holders adversely.

Other state Public Service Commissions also have approved the merger, which was authorized by stockholders of the two firms several weeks ago.

The inquiry will get underway Friday at 9:30 a.m. (EST) with testimony from Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

It will be conducted at closed sessions, but edited transcripts of testimony will be made public after being censored for security reasons.

Says U. S. Has Pictures of Russia

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—U. S. Reconnaissance planes have photographed "every square centimeter" of the Soviet Union except some steep and inaccessible mountain areas, the West German news magazine Der Spiegel reported.

The magazine said the work was done by 12 U-2 jets in about 150 flights over a four-year period.

The article did not give any source of information but began with a profile of Allen W. Dulles, Central Intelligence Agency director. The information on the U-2 flights was not directly attributed to Dulles and the writer, Claus Jacob, refused to say whether he had interviewed the intelligence chief.

Another committee session tentatively was set for Thursday.

Dirksen said Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) also objected to the committee's meeting during the Senate session Goldwater Monday had asked a one day delay in a meeting scheduled at that time.

Democrats have accused the Republicans of stalling on the bill, hoping to kill it.

GOPs Block Minimum Wage Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican objections today blocked the Senate Labor Committee from meeting on legislation to raise the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour.

The meeting had been called for 9 a.m. EST, the same hour the Senate met. It was canceled when Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois objected to the committee's meeting while the Senate was in session.

73,287 Persons on Welfare

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A total of 73,287 persons received $3,898,995 in state welfare grants in May, State Welfare Commissioner Carl Adams said yesterday that was a gain of 127 persons and $29,423 over April.

Says Nation Must Not Be Cynical

BOSTON (AP)—Dr. James R. Killian, Jr., former presidential adviser said today the nation must not become cynical about reducing tension and armaments.

"I hope that we do not yield in our determination to make headway toward these goals, even though the way is slow and vexing and marked by setbacks, and even though negotiation requires a patience greater even than Job's," Killian said.

The remarks of President Eisenhower's former scientific adviser were prepared for a Unitarian Development Fund luncheon, one of the events of the American Unitarian Assn. weeklong annual meeting here Killian Monday was elected moderator of the denomination.

The United States, he said, has an inescapable responsibility to be militarily and economically strong and if this requires "sacrifice and harder work, then I am sure the American people will enthusiastically accept the challenge to achieve peak performance at whatever sacrifice."

In spite of this, he said, "it is now more important than ever that we not flag or falter in our efforts to reduce the hazard of hot war and to bring an end to cold war."

"I feel deeply that we should continue to seek, without loss of security to ourselves or other nations, some adequately controlled form of arms limitation if we are to reduce the terrible, the growing danger of world catastrophe," he said.

Russia Unexpectedly Releases U.S. Plane, 9 Persons Aboard

Quake Spawns Tidal Waves Fatal to 350

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Japan today bore the brunt of quake-born tidal waves that raced across the Pacific from Chile. Hundreds of miles of Japan's east coast were battered.

The International tidal wave toll of dead and missing reached 354. Combined casualties of the Chilean quakes and the tidal waves were 526 dead and 898 missing.

The Japanese counted 90 dead and 75 missing from the tidal waves.

Thirty-three persons were killed and 23 missing in Hawaii. The waves claimed the lives of three Okinawans.

Of Chile's quake-tidal wave toll of 400 dead and 400 missing, 130 were reported lost in the high seas that broke on coastal communities late Sunday. The rest of Chile's toll was presumed due directly to the quakes that started last weekend.

French possessions in the South Pacific were hit, but reports reaching Paris said there were no deaths and little damage. Coastal roads of Tahiti were temporarily submerged.

Pacific coasts of the United States, the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand and Formosa were hit in varying degrees.

The tide hit as high as 30 feet at some points in Japan. The average was six or seven feet. Warnings were not broadcast until after the quake.

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida was selected permanent chairman of the forthcoming Democratic National Convention and Sen. Frank Church of Idaho was chosen keynote speaker at a meeting of the convention arrangements committee today.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States today backed up its spy charges against the Soviet Union by laying before the U.N. the detailed record of 11 alleged Russian agents named Monday by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Lodge handed the document to U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld and requested that it be circulated among the members of the Security Council.

Council members were lining up behind a small-nation effort to restore East-West negotiations.

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP)—The United States hurled an experimental Midas "spy in the sky" satellite into orbit about the earth today.

The 2½-ton satellite—called Midas—is designed to test the feasibility of establishing a network of satellites to provide almost instant warning in event of a ballistic missile attack.

Two hours after the launching the Air Force announced the satellite, 22-feet long and five feet in diameter was in orbit.

The launching, coinciding with the United Nations spy plane debate, underscored a United States desire to develop measures to protect the free world from surprise aggression.

A powerful Atlas-Agena rocket boosted the 5,000-pound satellite aloft at 12:37 p.m. EST. The Atlas-Agena second stage, 22 feet long and 5 feet in diameter, was intended to go into orbit in a nose-down position. The instruments are located in the nose.

More Cubans Are
Tossed in Jail
HAVANA (AP)—Cuban authorities reported early today a number of persons had been arrested near Matanzas on charges of plotting against the Castro government. Matanzas is about 60 miles east of Havana.

The reports said one of those arrested was a former captain in Castro's army, Arturo Castro Irujo.

Action Came Over Protest of E. Germany

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—The U.S. Air Force announced that Soviet authorities today freed a C-47 that strayed into Communist East Germany last Friday and the nine-Americans aboard it.

The Soviet high command in East Germany issued a vigorous protest against the twin-engine transport's flight and declared the American command in West Germany would have to take full responsibility for the incident.

A Soviet statement said the Soviets forced down the plane to protect the frontiers of East Germany as a member of the Warsaw Pact, a Soviet-led Communist military alliance.

A U.S. Air Force spokesman said the plane with its occupants—eight Air Force men and a woman—had taken off from East Germany and was en route to Air Force headquarters at Wiesbaden.

But a short time later the spokesman withdrew this and said he could not say exactly when the plane would arrive.

$80,000 Loss in Gas Fire at Danville

DANVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A flash fire and series of explosions destroyed a butane gas storage depot here last night.

One man was seriously burned. The fire, fed by volatile gas leaking from damaged tanks, continued to burn today. Danville Fire Chief Wayland Kemp said there was nothing his men could do but wait for the supply of gas in burning tanks to be exhausted.

He could not estimate how long this would take.

Danger of more explosions exists, Kemp said.

Damage was estimated at $80,000.

The fire at the Lloyd Liquefied Gas Co., blocked Highway 10, one and one-half miles from Danville, National Guardsmen were summoned to help patrol crowds and the highway.

The fire began when a hose broke as Eton Cooper, 42, of Booneville, Ark., was unloading a truckload of butane gas into a storage tank. Sparks or heat from his truck's motor touched off the leaking gas.

Cooper, burned by the flash fire, staggered to the nearby highway, where he was picked up by a nearby half a mile away in a hospital. He escaped before the first blast rocked the plant, and shook the city.

Owner Lloyd George, who estimated damage, said the 60,000-gallon capacity plant had 35,000 gallons of liquid gas or petroleum. Some of it was in small home-sized tanks which blew up intermittently.

Witnesses said one blast lifted a 6,000-gallon tank "across the road like a rocket." It set a fire nearly half a mile away in a wooded area, the witness said, after narrowly missing a house across the road from the storage facility. The house and other buildings nearby had been evacuated.

Another bulk storage facility about a quarter of a mile from the flames apparently escaped damage.

Firemen were unable to fight the flames because of the frequent explosions. Witnesses said there was one severe blast, about three slightly smaller explosions and four or five minor blasts.

A crowd of about 500 persons gathered at the scene, but were kept back by Guardsmen and the danger of a new explosion.

Charges 1957 Tax Increase Benefited Welfare Workers More Than Welfare Clients

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A proposal for an overall state tax study and a charge that a 1957 tax increase benefited Welfare Department employees more than welfare clients have been hurled into the Arkansas governor's race.

The tax study proposal came yesterday from bus touring Hal Millsap Jr. of Siloam Springs, who suggested "hiring tax experts to analyze our entire taxing structure at all levels."

Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett leveled the welfare charge, accusing the Department of having "played politics with peoples' stomachs."

Joe C. Hardin of Grady, shaking hands in western Arkansas, renewed his attacks on Amendment 52, a school-closing measure up for a popular vote in November, but urged it be defeated in the July 26 primary "by the defeat of Orval Faubus."

Arkla Village Plans to Add Bowling Alley

Little Rock, May 24 — A modern touch will be laid on Arkla Village at Emmet, this summer.

W. R. Stephens, Board chairman and president of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company which owns Arkla Village, announced that a new eight-lane bowling alley would be built there.

Stephens said that the alley would be adjacent to the Village proper and be located and designed so as not to detract from the picturesque-period appearance of the Village.

Other recreational facilities will be installed at the Village site also, Stephens said. The Village now includes a general store and "saloon" in the frontier motif, a blacksmith shop, and a livery stable, horse barn, carriage factory, harness and saddle factory, a plant manufacturing rockers and furniture, and a restaurant.

The bowling alley will be constructed by the Gas Company's own crews and equipment, Stephens said.

2 Probes of Spy Plane Are Shaping

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two separate Senate probes of the U2 spy plane incident shaped up today after a week of cautious political sparring over the collapse of the summit conference.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said over the weekend he thinks his committee should investigate events leading up to the summit debacle.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas immediately gave his blessing to the probe. "There's no better way to plan the future than to look at the mistakes of the past," he said.

Earlier Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash) had announced that his policy machinery studying committee, starting closed door hearings Tuesday, would look into the spy plane incident "as it relates to the adequacy of the decision-making process at the top level of government."

During the past week Johnson and other Democratic leaders, in an effort to preserve national unity behind the President, had steered clear of direct criticism.

Even as he endorsed Fulbright's probe, Johnson said at Oklahoma City "I don't want to emphasize the mistakes because 20-20 hindsight is always easier than 20-20 foresight."

The Democratic Advisory Council issued a statement criticizing President Eisenhower for his handling of recent events and said U.S. policies played into the hands of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"The administration cannot prevent free and open discussion of our international affairs," said Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler in releasing the statement. He added that if Vice President Richard M. Nixon "wants to brush it under the rug, we're not going to let him."

The council statement said "our foreign policy has failed not be-

Chapter VII
THE STORY: Sheriff Virgil McQueen surprises Ry Buckner in the courthouse. The sheriff tells Buckner that Duke Jordan, who was instrumental in getting Ry sentenced to prison, is now in trouble with Hatcher, a rival ranch.

Alarm touched Buckner. "Duke running? Hatcher was watching for him at the depot tonight, McQueen, what's happened on this range since I left?"

"What's happened, happened to night. Sam Tull brought the word to me from Hatcher about 10 o'clock. Duke Jordan took a ride early this evening. He found Lark Righy and Sam cutting a fence. Boxed J put up along the Strip. Hot words got said. And Duke shot Lark Righy dead. You savvy how that shapes up?"

Much that had made no sense earlier tonight was now understandable, but the truth stunned Buckner. Duke a hunted killer, with the law and the lawless on his trail Duke running, and his own scheme blocked now because Duke would be making himself hard to find.

He heard McQueen's voice as from afar. "Reckon you're hard hit, boy. Follows you would be. What you need is a cup of coffee and maybe a bait of grub. How does that sound?" this astonished Buckner. McQueen hadn't yet told him he was free to walk out of here. And McQueen hadn't come in him in a friendly way, not with gun in hand and a question about breaking and entering. But McQueen had turned friendly now. "We could talk a bit," McQueen added. "Maybe we both want the same thing. Maybe we could work together getting it."

"Duke in jail, you mean?"

"I'm the law, boy. How about that coffee?"

He knew McQueen meant it. No man for joshing, McQueen. Buckner shrugged. "You pour it, Sheriff. I'll drink it."

They dropped down the stairs to the basement where the door of McQueen's quarters now stood open.

McQueen lived in a single room adjacent to his office, a room with a cot, a kitchen range propped up with bricks where one leg was missing, a lumpy sofa, an unpainted table, a few chairs. Calendars covered one wall, time cause of the recent blunders related to the summit meeting but because of its fundamental lack of purpose and integrity.

The statement pledged support of any "sound efforts" the President may take to "salvage from the wreckage of the Paris meeting the means whereby the peace of the world can be assured."

Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Stuart Symington (D-Mo) endorsed the statement. They are contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Most Republicans decried criticism of the U2 incident.

Reports Cuba Will Attack U. S. Base

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The Ledger-Star said today Atlantic Fleet Headquarters has been warned that Cuban forces were reported gathered in Guantanamo base at Guantanamo in preparation for a march on the base.

Reports reaching the headquarters of Adm. Robert L. Dennison, Atlantic fleet commander, said forces of Prime Minister Fidel Castro were assembling in Guantanamo City for a move on the base "in the hope of creating a shooting incident," the newspaper said.

The size of the forces reportedly gathered in the small city outside the 45-square mile naval base was not available. The Ledger-Star said that its sources indicated the Cubans had been moving in quietly and in small bands in an attempt to disguise their movements.

Adm. Dennison was not available immediately for comment.

The Ledger-Star said that Washington sources verified that the Navy was aware of the possible move and indicated that sentries at the naval base had been warned.

The United States operates the naval base under an agreement with Cuba which still has many years to run. Only last week Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, reiterated that the Navy would defend the base in accordance with the treaty.

Russia Set to Debate the Plane Issue

By MAX HARRISON
UNIT D NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union squared off today for a debate on espionage which appeared likely to aggravate still further the East-West rift that wrecked last week's summit conference.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, fresh from the Paris Big Four meeting, was reported ready to speak for at least an hour before the 11-nation Security Council in support of the U.S. charge that U.S. spy flights are a threat to peace.

Chief U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge said he was confident he could deflate the Soviet complaint. He was expected to contend that espionage is as old as history, that it is carried on by the Soviet Union and that it is no threat to peace.

Because of the part the U.S. intelligence flights played in the breakup of the summit conference, the council debate commanded unusual attention. The U.S. Information Agency said the full proceedings would be broadcast by the Voice of America.

This included a live broadcast beamed at the Soviet Union.

The Soviet foreign minister planned to press for council condemnation of such flights as that of the U2 spy plane downed on Soviet territory May 1.

He also demanded that they be stopped, although President Eisenhower announced at the summit conference the flights had been stopped and would not be resumed.

Diplomats at the U.N. agreed, however, that Gromyko would find little support for his condemnation proposal. The general belief was that only the Soviet Union and Communist Poland would vote for such a resolution, which requires seven affirmative votes for passage.

Behind the scenes the council president for May, Sir Claude Correa of Ceylon, was reported working with other small-power members, seeking a resolution that might help improve U.S.-Soviet relations.

It also was reported that Correa was working on a proposal calling on all countries to make no unauthorized flights over the territory of another nation, but this was denied.

Lodge's strategy was not disclosed in advance. He returned to New York Sunday after three days of consultations in Washington with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

It was assumed that Lodge would devote his main effort to

President to Report Meet to Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will go on television and radio Wednesday evening to report to the American people on collapse of the summit conference.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the president's 30-minute talk would start at 8 p.m. EDT.

In addition to the summit collapse, he said, the talk also will deal with "the future aims and goals of the United States and, indeed, on its allies and the free world."

The announcement on Eisenhower's plans came as he conferred at the White House with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter regarding the TV-radio report.

The President met with Herter almost immediately after returning from a weekend of rest at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

In response to questions, Hagerty said he knew of no plans for Eisenhower to address a joint session of Congress regarding the Paris debacle.

Eisenhower's broadcast talk will be carried live by all major radio networks and by the ABC and CBS television networks.

Hagerty said that at request of the White House, NBC-TV will carry the address starting at 10 p.m. EDT. The request was made, the press secretary added, so that those unable to view the telecast at 8 p.m. will have an opportunity to do so later.

Hagerty also announced that because Eisenhower will be going on the air Wednesday evening he will not hold a news conference this week. The President customarily meets with reporters on Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eddy Haynes

Arrid all-white arrangements of gladioli, peonias and chandelabra holding lighted candles. Miss Freda Alene Watson of Hope and Robert Eddy Haynes of Prescott were married, Friday, May 6, in the Southside Missionary Baptist Church, in Hope. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Otis Watson of Hope and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Olen Haynes of Prescott. Rev. Norman Grant officiated at the double ring ceremony following a program of wedding music by Mrs. Jack Brown.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore chanel lace and net over white tulle, full skirted and white length, with filled bodice, high neck collar, short Italian sleeves and mits of tulle lace. Her finger tip veil fell from a white satin bandeau figure eight and her bridal bouquet was of red rose buds carried on a white satin covered bible.

Mrs. Bobby O'Bryant of Hope, sister-in-law of the bride acted as matron of honor. She wore a dark blue dress with a white satin bandeau and carried a nosegay of white carnations. Serving as bridesmaids were Misses Helen Ramsey, Judy Easterling, Jo Carolyn Lewis and Pat Bratcher dressed in light blue styled identically to the Matron of honor's and carried bouquets of white peonias with white satin streamers.

Assisting with the courtesies at the reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cooley, were Miss Denny Hefner, Mrs. Leroy Cooley both of Hope, Mrs. Vernon Haynes and Miss Nelda Parks of Prescott.

The color scheme of the brides table was carried out with pink and white. A white lace tablecloth over pink was the background for the white and pink wedding cake topped with wedding bells and the pink punch. Pink roses were used for the center piece.

The groom is a graduate of Prescott High School and an employee of Crow-Burlingame Co. in Prescott. The couple is at home at 210 East Main St. in Prescott.

Turk Colleges Shut Down Until Fall

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—The shutdown of Turkish colleges and universities has been extended to the fall and new restrictions have been imposed on the capital to check anti-government demonstrations.

Students have been in the forefront of the campaign against the strongarm rule of Premier Adnan Menderes. They have succeeded in rousing only scattered support from the public.

College classes, suspended for a month on April 8 following violent student uprisings, were due to resume this weekend. Instead the government Sunday night extended the closure order to July 28, a month after Turkish schools normally close for the summer.

Schools for the training of teachers were exempted. The Cabinet did not make clear whether the shutdown applied to the Turkish army War College, whose cadets paraded three hours Saturday in sympathy with the anti-government student demonstrators.

Martial law was tightened in Ankara to turn the capital of 500,000 persons into a virtual ghost city at night.

The curfew was extended from 5 to 9 hours, sale of liquor was banned from 4 to 11 p. m., and more than 5 persons were prohibited from even walking together "on any pretext."

Everyone is required to carry identically cards at all times.

The military governor of the capital, Lt. Gen. Namek Arguc, warned that future demonstrations "will be met with arms" and anyone stopping to watch them subject to immediate arrest.

He clamped a censorship on all radio, telephone and telegraph communications in and out of Ankara, but there was no interference with cables being filed by foreign newsmen.

The general is dictator of the world.

Summit to Be Issue of Campaign

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The summit conference debacle flared up today as a top issue likely to be kept boiling during the presidential campaigns.

Although both sides disclaimed any political motives, a Senate explosion Monday over the term "appeaser" apparently triggered a Democratic-Republican battle over foreign policy that might last till November.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) expressed surprise at what he called a "violent partisan attack" in the Senate on Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Adlai E. Stevenson.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee headed by Fulbright decides today whether to conduct closed-door hearings on the events leading up to collapse of the scheduled Big Four summit meeting in Paris last week.

Subject to expected committee approval, Fulbright invited Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Allen W. Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, to appear later in the week. He wants them to explain, among other matters, why an American spy plane was sent over the Soviet Union shortly before the scheduled opening of the Paris meeting.

Like some Republicans in Congress, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said Monday there is a "clear and compelling need to face the facts" of the summit failure. But he cautioned both sides to avoid "a clash of absurd partisan absolutes."

Kennedy, a leading contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, told the Senate that Democrats will continue to discuss and criticize foreign policies of the Eisenhower administration with which they disagree.

"It is our function and responsibility," he said. "We propose to do it. I would think the Democratic party would be unworthy of its opportunities and responsibilities if it did not fulfill that function."

Kennedy called Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa) to account for suggesting that he and Stevenson, a possible rival for the nomination, ought to "relieve themselves of the gross suspicion of appeasement" because of their statements on the city under martial law with powers to search homes and offices at any time. Military permission must be obtained for all gatherings, including weddings, funerals or parties.

Hagerty said that at request of the White House, NBC-TV will carry the address starting at 10 p.m. EDT. The request was made, the press secretary added, so that those unable to view the telecast at 8 p.m. will have an opportunity to do so later.

Hagerty also announced that because Eisenhower will be going on the air Wednesday evening he will not hold a news conference this week. The President customarily meets with reporters on Wednesday morning.

Feels Arab Side Untold in America

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark), back from a visit to the Middle East, reports President Nasser of Egypt feels deeply that the Arab side of the Arab-Israeli dispute never has been told to the American people.

Fulbright said he talked with Nasser for about four hours. Later he visited Jordan and Israel.

Nasser, he said, feels that the U.S. government and the country's news media are dominated by Zionists.

Fulbright said Nasser could not understand how certain incidents could happen in this country, such as Longshoremen's Union picketing of an Egyptian vessel, without government sanction.

The Arkansas said he spent considerable time trying to "explain how our government works, how our free press operates."

"I told him I thought our policy was to be fair and that our people wanted to be fair but that sometimes it is difficult to keep our lines all straight," he said.

Nasser, he said, is willing to implement a U.N. resolution calling for opening of the Suez Canal to Israeli ships if Israel will implement a second U.S. resolution calling on Israel to repatriate the Arabs who were forced to leave that country, or to compensate them, the choice to be left to the displaced people.

Fulbright said the Egyptian leader contended that while the one resolution is highly publicized, the second is not—that this is an instance of failure in the United States to present the Arab side of the picture.

Fulbright said the Israelis cannot repatriate the one million Arabs since that would create a grave security problem Israel, he said, believes the Arab purpose is to destroy their country.

Therefore, he said, he sees little chance of any immediate settlement.

"However, it is our duty to keep examining it the problem and attempting a solution," Fulbright said.

He suggested one compromise might be for Israel to accept some of the million Arabs and compensate the others. But, he said, he doesn't know whether the present political climate in the Middle East would permit this.

Workers' Safety Up to Employers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Employers of Mexican nationals this year will be responsible for their safe transportation for short distances, under new Labor Department conference breakdown.

Kennedy conceded that, in replying to a question at a Portland, Ore., political rally, he had said it might have been possible for President Eisenhower to have met Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demand for an apology for the plane incident.

But he said he had immediately added that if Khrushchev had merely asked the President to express regret "that might have been a more reasonable term."

DOROTHY DIX

What to Do When Teen-Ager Thinks She Loves Married Man?

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I have always given my daughter permission to go out on dates. I never had any reason not to trust her. Who is to blame when she comes home to tell me she has been going out with a married man? My world crumbled. She is 18; he is 30. She told me I didn't understand. I'll never trust her again. I told her: "If he cheated on his wife, what makes you think he won't do it to you?"

I am fool enough to date him myself (with my husband's knowledge) just to show her she won't be the last. Am I wrong?

"Crumbling World": Your universe hasn't collapsed. What you regard as catastrophic is but a last of character which, if sensibly met, will strengthen the love between you and your daughter.

The root of the trouble is lack of understanding on both sides about the problems of adolescence.

Falling in love with a married man is not unusual among teenage girls. The first love in many a young girl's life is a married man—her father. As she matures, her love fastens upon someone similar.

To oppose your daughter in such an infatuation is to put her on the defensive. To prove her mistaken by dating the man yourself would not only be cruel but would alienate her forever.

See her through this mid-summer night's dream by understanding—not condemning—her. Bring the affair into the daylight. Clandestine love wills in the open.

Invite the man to your home. Make friends with his family.

Once values assume normal proportions your daughter will see how off-center she's been.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I am a girl of 13. A boy asked me to a party. My mother wouldn't let me go. There were to be many parents present so we couldn't do anything. The boy's father was to bring me home.

After the boy asked me to the party I said no, then explained why. Now he simply pretends I'm not there. He walks right by me. How can I get his respect back? I know I am a little young but I still want a boy friend.—P.C.

Dear P. C.: I sympathize with you yet, in the last analysis, your mother is right. At 13 you are entering what is called the adolescent period—crossing the bridge rules.

The new regulations provide safety provisions for transportation to and from work.

Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell said yesterday the new rules supplement a 1956 regulation requiring employers to provide safe transportation for Mexican nationals on long distance moves.

as it were from childhood to womanhood. The better you understand this, the easier it will be to appreciate the reason for your mother's seeming strictness.

I admit some parents can be overstrict. There is a happy medium. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflets "Teen-Age Code" and "Cautious Parents."

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My niece, 23, has been going with her fiance who is 27, for six years and engaged three years. While he was in the service he always wrote saying he could hardly wait to get married. Once out, he set a date but backed down, using the excuse that he was afraid of being laid off his job. Now he comes around twice and calls (three times a month) yet says he's going to get married. My niece is at his beck and call, even when he phones for a date two hours ahead of time. What to do—Worried Aunt.

Dear Worried Aunt: Long engagements seldom have happy endings. Your niece is playing a losing game. Encourage her to break with this reluctant suitor and date other boys. If you have any favorites, now is the time to trot them out.

Send your problem to Dorothy Dix. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her in care of this newspaper.

Lightning Hits Man, He Lives

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP)—J.W. McDonald, a 41-year-old Batesville carpenter, was struck on top of the head by a bolt of lightning and lived to tell about it.

"It was like somebody stuck a couple of sticks of dynamite in my shoes and they went off," he said. Doctors said it was a miracle McDonald lived through the jolt, which struck him Friday as he was standing on the porch of a house at Strawberry, Ark.

The only real damage is black streaks on McDonald's left foot which look ironically like bolts of lightning.

Lawrence Reeves, a relative who was standing near McDonald when the lightning struck, told this story:

The bolt had two prongs. One of them struck in the yard, blasting a hole more than a foot deep. The other struck the house and roared through the electrical system. It came out of a light fixture under which McDonald was standing and struck him squarely on top of the head.

He was out for about a minute. "My body tingled for a long time," McDonald said, "and my feet burned." Both feet were blistered.

"My wife couldn't understand why I wasn't killed," he added. "It is miraculous that he's still alive."

state president said "It doesn't matter which party you belong to, there's a race on to see who can offer the most in order to get votes."

Last Two Rescued in Alaska Saga

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Alaska's mountain rescue saga ended today with the safe arrival here of the last two men stranded on Mt. McKinley since last Tuesday night.

The Whittaker twins of Redmond, Wash., James and Louis, were taken to the Elmendorf Air Force Base hospital for treatment of minor frostbite.

The Whittakers came down off the mountain under their own power. They were flown by helicopter to a rendezvous with an Air Force plane, which brought them here.

Still on the mountain were 15 to 20 mountain climbers, who took part in the rescue of the Whittakers, two companions and a very ill woman, who had been a member of another climbing party.

Court Will Revue the DuPont Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today agreed to review a decision that the Du Pont company could retain ownership of its General Motors stock but must pass voting rights on to Du Pont stockholders.

The decision was given by U.S. Dist. Judge Walter J. LaBuy in Chicago. It was appealed to the high tribunal by the Justice Department in its 11-year legal battle under the antitrust laws to force Du Pont to divest itself of GM stockholdings.

Du Pont holds 63 million shares, or around 23 per cent. of the outstanding GM stock. The holdings have a current market value of upward of three billion dollars.

The Supreme Court's decision to review Judge LaBuy's action was announced in a brief order which noted that Justices Clark and Harlan had disqualified themselves from the case.

Argument in the Du Pont case will not be heard before some time next fall. The high tribunal completed arguments for the present term last Thursday. The fall term opens Oct. 3.

LaBuy's decision on Oct. 2, 1959, recognized contentions by Du Pont and GM that heavy sales of GM stock on the open market might have serious effects on the market prices.

LaBuy said a forced sale of GM stock would channel a large share of the profits into the Treasury under present tax laws, and would be unnecessarily harsh and punitive.

He ruled that Du Pont in continuing ownership could collect GM dividends, and said that in transferring voting rights to individual Du Pont stockholders the members of the Du Pont family were to be excluded.

Kouffax Hurls a One-Hitter for the Dodgers

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Success has come slow at late for Sandy Kouffax. But when he's sharp, Sandy's spectacular.

And he never has been sharper than he was Monday night, slopping hot-hitting Pittsburgh with the first one-hitter of his major league career as the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the National League-leading Pirates 1-0.

It was Sandy's first victory since he tied the major league strikeout record with 18 in a 5-2 decision over San Francisco last August 31. He had lost six in a row since then, four this season. The bushy-browed lefty, a Brooklyn kid with speed and a curve, struck out 10 and was perfect over the last 6 1-3 innings. It was the Pirates' first shutout of the year and trimmed their lead over the San Francisco Giants to one game.

In the only other NL game, Chicago's Cubs beat Cincinnati 7-6 in 18 innings on George Altman's home run.

Just one game was scheduled in the American League and the New York Yankees won it, sweeping a two-game series at Kansas City with a 4-3 decision.

The only hit off Kouffax was a second-inning single by losing pitcher Benito Daniels. It came between a pair of walks that loaded the bases with two out, but Kouffax escaped by getting Dick Groat to hit into a force out. Sandy walked six in the first 2 2-3 innings, then retired the final 19 men in order.

Kouffax, 24, now has 43 strikeouts for 31 2-3 innings this season, good for third behind teammate Don Drysdale (77) and Bob Friend (55) of the Pirates. He fanned Don Hoak and Bob Skinner twice. Bob Clemente, the NL batting leader (.372), was among the other strikeout victims and was held hitless for only the second time in the last 19 games.

Chicago's Cubs, now the only club in the majors to escape a shutout this season, dealt reliever Bob Grim a defeat in his first NL decision with Altman's second home run of the season. Altman came on as a late-inning replacement for Walt Moryn, who had belted a two-run homer in a four-run first off Cal McLish. The Reds hit four home runs, battling back on shots by reliever Jim Brosnan, Ed Bailey and Vada Pinson for a 4-1 tie, and then squaring it 6-all on Gus Bell's two-run homer in the 12th. Ben Johnson (2-1) won it.

The Yankees, blowing a 3-1 lead, scored the winning run in the

Hurtubise 'Hot' at Indianapolis

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Jim Hurtubise, 27-year-old graduate of county fair dirt tracks, was applauded by speed fans today as the hottest rookie at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway since George Souders won the 1927 Memorial Day race on his first attempt.

But Hurtubise, who powered Speedway qualifying records Sunday, will have to pass 22 cars in next Monday's 4th 500-mile if he equals Souders' feat.

The Lennox, Calif., Coast Guard veteran cranked the 10-mile record up to a fantastic 140.056 miles an hour and had a best lap at 140.601. Nobody before had driven the ancient, relatively flat-banked track at even 140.

In spite of the feat, Hurtubise will have to line up next Monday behind the cars that were qualified the previous weekend. The first starter will be Eddie Sachs, Allentown, Pa., who held the qualifying record for a week at 146.502.

Wind and rain halted trials completely Saturday and showers closed the track for more than four hours of the seven-hour final period Sunday. Twenty cars were left in line when the track closed.

The final 33-car field had a record qualifying average of 144.070 miles an hour. The previous high was 143.445 in 1958.

Would Like to Win Like His Father

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Jones would like to see the name "Robert T. Jones" on the big scoreboard at the National Open golf tournament again, and he is halfway there.

But this isn't Robert T. Jones, of grand slam fame. It's his son, Robert T. III, who never took up the game with the same competitive zeal as did the immortal champion from Atlanta.

Robert T. Jones III, 33, a bottling executive from Pittsfield, Mass., was one of the more than 400 who qualified in district trials Monday for the 60th Open championship, to be contested at the Cherry Hills Country Club in Denver June 16-18.

A stocky, blond man with many of his father's characteristics, the younger Jones led at the trials at Albany, N.Y., by shooting rounds of 71-74-145. He looked like the famous Bobby around the greens, using only 56 putts. "I'm just a weekend golfer," Jones said, "but I'd like to play in at least one Open."

He has qualified for the National Amateur but the younger Jones never has played in the Open championship, which his dad won four times.

Like others who qualified Monday, Jones still must survive the sectional trials June 6-7 when the field will be cut to 150.

Most of the top name golfers were exempt from the district qualifying. The biggest casualty was Jim Ferree of Winston-Salem, N.C., one of the regulars on the tour, who collapsed in the 90-degree heat at Little Rock and failed to finish.

1912 Photograph of Hope Found in L.R. Antique Shop

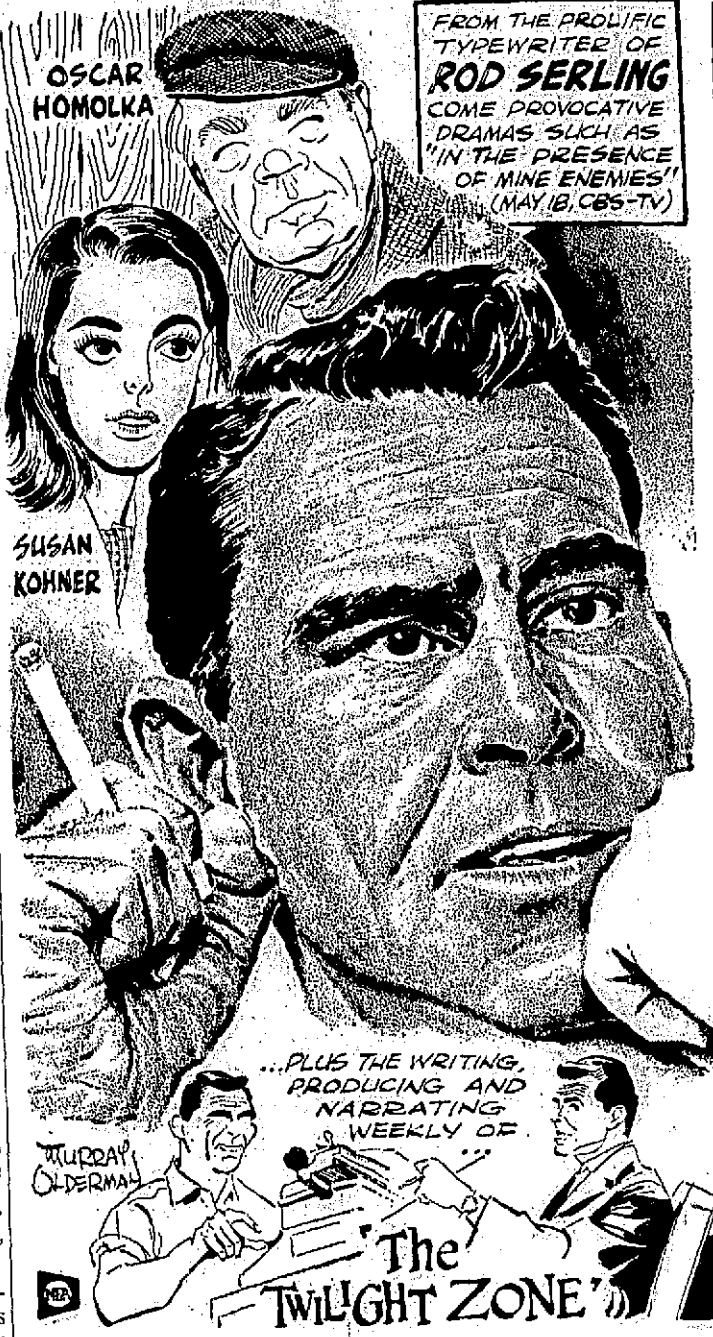

THE ARKANSAS PRESS ASSOCIATION'S ANNUAL CONVENTION OF 1912 met at the Barlow hotel (extreme right in picture), and the above photograph of the event was picked up the other day in a Little Rock antique shop.

THE SHOPPER WAS MRS. JOHN F. WELLS, WHO WAS LOOKING FOR A certain type picture frame. She bought the frame for $3, and discovered when she got home that the above picture came with the frame. When her husband came home that night he thoughtfully remembered the Editor of Hope Star and sent frame and picture to us.

THE REPRODUCTION ABOVE ALSO IN A WAY REPRESENTS NEWS-PAPER history. The original framed photograph, made with an old-style revolving panorama camera, is 3 1/2 inches wide. The Star copied it onto a Fairchild 4 1/2 inches wide and then enlarged it to the 5-column plate above with the Fairchild electronic engraving machine, the job The Star leases for $199 a month.

to Gen. Clyde D. Eddleman, U.S. Army commander in Europe. Eddleman had asked for release of the Americans and their plane in a message Saturday to Col. Gen. I. I. Yakubovskiy, commander of Soviet forces in East Germany.

The East German news agency ADN announced the protest in Berlin.

Then came a U. S. Army announcement that a delegation from the U.S. military mission in the Soviet zone "will meet with the nine passengers and crew ... to determine whether the plane is in condition to fly them out or if it will be necessary to evacuate the personnel by other means."

It reported that Eddleman was told: "Soviet fighters on duty repeatedly gave the border violator the established signal to land. However, the latter did not reach, which resulted in the Soviet fighters taking justified decisive action."

It was not officially specified whether this action included warning shots.

The protest concluded with a statement that Yakubovskiy was ready to turn over the plane, crew and passengers to a representative of Eddleman whenever the American found it convenient.

The C47 transport was forced down when it got over the border into East Germany while on a flight from Copenhagen Denmark to Hamburg, Germany.

The plane landed near the East German town of Grunshagen, about 20 miles from the West German border. Soviet spokesmen in Berlin said it landed undamaged.

The Soviets made no attempt to whip up an international incident over the plane, as they had over the U2 spy plane forced down over the Soviet Union on May Day.

Nor did they follow their usual tactic of trying to force American military authorities to secure release of the plane and its occupants from the Communist East German regime.

In the past, the Soviets referred such matters to the East Germans to force a measure of Western recognition for the satellite regime, with which the Western Allies normally refuse to deal.

But this time the Soviets kept the Americans in their custody and handled the matter with American military authorities themselves.

Five crewmen and four passengers were aboard the plane when it was downed.

The crewmen are Capt. James Palmer Lundy, 41, pilot of Findlay, Ohio; Capt. George A. Jordan, 37, copilot, West Lafayette, Ind.; Capt. William Thomas Freeman, 36, a third pilot, Galveston,
